Heavenly Father, we ask your blessings and protection on the people of Sacred Heart Parish. We, your children at St. Patrick's, invoke your name on their behalf. We are grateful for all you have given us and in return we are mindful of those who have less than we do. Bless us all and keep us close to you. May the example of your Son, Jesus Christ, be the strength that will make us one in you. This we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Art of Welcoming

In a world with so much mobility, sooner or later we find ourselves moving, as I presently am doing at the end of this month. Far more often though, we find ourselves welcoming those who move into our lives.

Last evening, June 4th, Claudia and Mark Atkinson opened their home to greet new parishioners to St. Patrick's. Along with these new arrivals who could make it, there were also a number of established parishioners who joined in the welcome. St. Patrick's new pastor, Fr. Joe Bisignano, was also scheduled to attend.

Welcoming is part of the virtue of hospitality. When thinking of the virtues, hospitality does not spring immediately to mind, like faith, hope or charity. Call it a "little virtue," but it's an important one nonetheless. In its essence, hospitality is making room in your life for someone else and their needs. It's the perfect antidote to selfishness, which is so destructive of the spiritual life. Sometimes it's fleeting, as in when we host a party; sometimes it's far more long-lasting. Parenting and taking care of elderly parents are classic examples of this kind of hospitality. The fourth commandment is hospitality writ large.

As we go forward in our spiritual journeys, we shall surely be called upon to both give and receive hospitality. With every act of graciousness we shall find ourselves moving out of the center of our own world and letting someone else in. That someone else is Jesus, who once said "as often as you do these (kind) things to the least of your sisters and brothers, you do them to me." Welcome indeed!

Golf Clubs for the Taking

Over time most golfers accumulate more clubs than they can use. Such is the case with me. I have two extra bags and probably what would amount to about two extra sets of assorted golf clubs (right-handed). Any teenager taking up the game might be interested. Just give me a call.

Did You Know?

The parish has a wonderful collection of spiritual books in the Cenacle. They are yours to borrow and return. Included are the classics, such as the works of the Church Fathers, and the latest books of authors such as Ronald Rolheiser and James Martin. Come anytime the Cenacle is open (Monday through Friday, 9am – 4pm).

Words of Pope Francis

TRANSFORMED BY LOVE

"So different from each other on a human level, Peter and Paul were personally chosen by Jesus and answered the call by offering their entire life. In both of them Christ's grace accomplished great things. It transformed them—and how! Simon denied Jesus in a dramatic moment of passion. Saul harshly persecuted the Christians. But they both welcomed God's love and allowed themselves to be transformed by God's mercy. They thus became friends and apostles of Christ. This is why they continue to speak to the Church and still show us the way to salvation. God is always capable of transforming us too, the way God transformed Peter and Paul. God is like this: God transforms us and always forgives us, as God did with Peter and Paul."

Spiritual Adoption—Month 7

Our babies exercise by kicking and stretching and they open and close their eyes. Using the four senses of vision, hearing, taste and touch, they experience their own motion, secretions, the difference between waking and sleeping, and even relate to the moods of their mothers. The center of the babies' bones are beginning to harden and the skin covering is naturally red and wrinkled. They are completely formed, just growing in size and strength. The babies could weigh anywhere from 2.5 to 3 pounds and are approximately 15" long.
